Thought for the Week: "...Our Lord, after foretelling His Passion to His disciples, had exhorted them to follow the path of His sufferings (Matt 16:21-24). Now in order that anyone go straight along a road, he must have some knowledge of the end: thus an archer will not shoot the arrow straight unless he first see the target. Hence Thomas said (John 14:5): 'Lord, we know not whither Thou goest; and how can we know the way?'" St. Thomas Aquinas on the Transfiguration of Our Lord

Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament:

Adoration of Jesus in the Blessed Sacrament takes place on Friday immediately after the 9:00 a.m. Holy Mass. Join us for the Mass or join us anytime from 9:30 a.m. through 12

Special Diocesan Collection for Refugees in Poland on the weekend of March 19-20: Over a million refugees, women, children and the elderly, have fled to Poland along its border. This sudden surge of refugees has created a crisis of epic proportions. The rector of the St. John Paul II Shrine in Kraków, Poland, is helping these refugees. The Shrine is a popular place of pilgrimage and has the ability to shelter many refugees and assist with meals, clothing, and basic needs. Any assistance diocesan parishes can provide to the Saint John Paul II Shrine in Krakow will go to aiding countless Ukrainian refugees.

VATICAN CITY (CNS) — Following news reports about the war in Ukraine is important, Cardinal Michael Czerny said, but meeting the victims of that war, the people forced to flee, has a different impact. “When you meet people who are fleeing and who have left everything behind, the impact is on the gut” and triggers compassion. Pope Francis sent Cardinal Czerny, interim president of the Dicastery for Promoting Human Development, to the Hungarian-Ukrainian border in March to show his closeness to the victims of the war and his appreciation for those helping them. Cardinal Czerny drove to Ukraine, to meet with the local Eastern- and Latin-rite Catholic bishops. He found bishops and representatives of the local Protestant and Jewish communities - working together to assist the displaced. “It was a happy surprise,” he said. “It seemed to be the most natural and normal and necessary thing to do.”

More than 2.3 million people fled Ukraine since the war began on February 24. More than 200,000 of the refugees crossed into Hungary. Men of fighting age are not allowed to leave Ukraine so the refugees are mostly women fleeing with their children. “This is when trafficking goes into high gear, because they have such a large, vulnerable population of young women, young children,” he said. “A stranger comes up to you when you are in total need and says, ‘Do you want help?’ and you innocently say yes,” and the consequences can be devastating. The cardinal said he tried to educate the local representatives and volunteers to this danger and how to help.

Cardinal Czerny with Zsolt Semjén, Hungary’s deputy prime minister, and encouraged the Hungarian government to continue to widen its assistance to refugees. By: Cindy Wooden, Catholic News Service
